

Nehru Great Indian Leader Not for Us

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is no wonder President Kennedy and Indian Prime Minister Nehru, after four days of talks, issued a statement which shows they still disagree on some issues this country considers major.

Nehru, who is just four days short of being 72 and spent more than 13 years in British jails fighting for Indian independence which was won in 1947, is a complex and troubled man.

Sometimes in public statements probably from the Russian also, from the American view and he can be an irritating man who acts with an air of superior wisdom as if talking down his nose to a couple of dead-end kids in a dynamite room.

There are also times, at least from the American view, when he looks like a confused man. For instance: when he calls for self-determination for Portuguese Angola but hedges about the same thing for Communist-held East Germany.

It has been said of him that he is a great Indian leader but a poor world one. Yet, he is forever talking on world affairs. He couldn't avoid it.

As head of more than 438 million people—more than in the United States and Soviet Russia combined—he's involved in the world in a big way and yet cannot bring his country into the 20th century without outside help.

He's jarred Americans, whose he has accepted, and he's jarred the Russians, who recently pledged India more than a half billion dollars, by disagreeing with both on some issues.

Because of this he is the prime example of the problem this country has in dealing with the leaders of many backward nations:

His idea of what's right, wrong or necessary—judged from where he stands and by his problems—cannot possibly coincide with the American or Russian views, or their interests, in every situation. For this reason, and because of the size and importance of his nation, he does represent a view

Would Oust South Africa From the UN

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —An Asian-African bloc of nations was reported today to drop their demand for a worldwide boycott against South Africa and concentrate on trying to get the white supremacist government thrown out of the United Nations.

The strategy switch by the 31 sponsors of the boycott proposal was disclosed as the 103-nation special political committee neared a vote on rival resolutions dealing with South Africa's race policies.

Informants said the 31 will scrap the boycott demand if the committee fails to give it the two-thirds majority it would need to clear the General Assembly. If that happens, they will move that their ouster call be inserted as an amendment to the milder eight-nation resolution denouncing South Africa's apartheid policy but leaving the question of diplomatic and economic penalties up to individual member nations.

As the stormy two-week debate neared its end, South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw warned Thursday that expulsion of his country would be "the beginning of the end" of the United Nations.

Disputing the right of the United Nations to "meddle" in what his government considers South Africa's internal affairs, Louw declared that those who had denounced his government had not come into court with clean hands.

Louw also accused U.S. Ambassador Francis T. P. Plimpton of making "an unbridled attack on South Africa" and questioned how the United States had carried out the "all men are created equal" provision in the Declaration of Independence. The first real steps, he said, "do not go much further back than the Supreme Court decision on school integration in 1954, and the appearance of the National Guard with fixed bayonets at Little Rock."

7 Counties Have Cut Out County Supervisor Job, But Overall Cost Climbs

(Second of a Series)

Despite the wholesale elimination of school districts through consolidation and the drastic drop in rural population Arkansas has moved slowly in the matter of abolishing the County School Supervisor, an office which the trend of the times has made obsolete.

As of fiscal 1959-60 only six counties out of the 75 had eliminated the office; and in fiscal 1960-61 the number was still only seven. Six of the seven have cut the office from a $10,000 budget down to a secretary usually getting $3,000 a year. These are: Cleveland, Crawford, Cross, Lincoln, Madison, and Nevada. The seventh, Scott, wiped out the entire office, reporting "No budget." This tabulation is taken from a State Department of Education analysis dated January 1, 1961.

In the above analysis it should be noted that with six counties reducing the County Supervisor to a secretary in fiscal 1959-60 the state-wide cost was $595,542; but in fiscal 1960-61 when a seventh — Scott county — reported no budget at all — the state-wide expense increased to $624,162.

In preparing its campaign to abolish the County School Supervisor office in Hempstead county Hope Star employed James H. Pilkinton, former chancery judge, to digest the law and outline procedure. There are various pertinent acts of the legislature, dating back to 1941 in the most recent survey, but it was No. 159 of the Acts of 1957 which spelled out the means by which the public might act.

Here is the abstract on No. 159 (80-235):

80-235. Abolition of office of county supervisor — Employment of secretary — The County Board of Education in the several counties shall have the power and authority to elect to abolish the office of County School Supervisor in their respective counties. If any County Board of Education so elects to abolish the Office of County School Supervisor, then the said County Board of Education shall, at their option, either employ a secretary, at a salary not to exceed $3,000 per annum and expenses not to exceed $500 per annum, to perform all the powers, duties, and responsibilities that are now vested in and imposed by law on the County School Supervisor in the several counties of this state, or the County Board of Education may authorize all the powers, duties and responsibilities now vested in and imposed by law on the said County School Supervisor to vest in and be discharged by the superintendents of schools of the school districts in each county with such powers and duties to be exercised by such superintendent of schools within the territorial boundaries of their respective school districts.

Therefore the matter of abolition has to be reached through election of so-minded members of the County Board of Education.

As reported yesterday, we conferred last Wednesday with the board member whose term is now expiring and which will be filled at the December 5th school election — Milton Peebles of Saratoga — and found he was unwilling to commit himself at this time.

Therefore it is necessary to nominate by at least 50 names on a petition a man who will commit himself to abolishing the County School Supervisor office. And that petition will be circulated, completed and filed before the deadline next Wednesday, Nov. 15 — 20 days before the election, as required by law.

And regarding the option expressed in the above-quoted law of 1957, it is this newspaper's position that local circumstances justify wiping out the entire office — both Supervisor and Secretary, saving the half of the annual $16,000-plus Common School Fund that is now being wasted.

This business actually started a year ago. We were prepared to fight back yonder. Ralph Lehman, an advocate of abolishment, filed for membership on the County Board of Education, but the retiring member, Clifford Franks, did not file — and there was no contest. This year, if our campaign is successful, we will have a second pledged member on the five-man board, and there is a possibility others may come over to our way of thinking and give us a majority.

In any event the County School Supervisor's personal fortunes are protected. He holds a contract from the present board until June 30, 1963.

So we have to act now in order to accomplish something a year and a half from now.

You may sign one of our nominating petitions at Hope Star office, or one of the other copies which will be circulated this week-end.

2 Engines Out, Crashed Pilot Says

By GEORGE TAYLOR

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The pilot of the ill-fated Imperial Airlines Constellation said today two of the craft's four engines were out, a third was losing power and the rose wheel was sluggish in going down when he pulled away from an attempted emergency landing at Richmond's big Byrd Field.

Moments later the large plane crashed in a woodland less than two miles from the runway Wednesday night. 74 Army recruits and inductees and three crew members died in the burning airplane.

Ronald H. Jonway, 29, of West Hollywood, Fla., said the impact of the crash into the wooded area "Didn't seem hard or anything to me. But then I realized the whole plane was on fire."

Defaulting Envoy Gets 30 Years

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge has handed former diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck the maximum prison sentence—30 years—for passing U.S. secrets to Polish Communist agents.

In passing sentence Thursday, Judge Walsh said Scarbeck's actions were an example in Scarbeck's case of a factor he had to keep in mind.

If appeals fail, Scarbeck, 41, will not be eligible for parole until he has served 10 years. Justice Department lawyers said.

A 3½-week trial ended Oct. 27 with Scarbeck's conviction on three counts of passing secret documents to the Communist agents while he was second secretary in the U.S. Embassy at Warsaw.

Scarbeck was sentenced to 30 years in prison for each of the three counts returned. Continued on Page Two

Reds Give Ground on Berlin Issue

EDITOR'S NOTE—Is the Kremlin ready to give some ground to win East-West negotiations over Berlin? The Associated Press Bureau chief in Moscow, Preston Grover, a veteran who has covered political affairs on four continents, tells in the following dispatch of a reported Soviet compromise offer.

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—A new Soviet proposal on Berlin would be viewed by diplomatic quarters here today as making one concession to the West that might lead to negotiations.

The future of Communist-surrounded West Berlin would be discussed first under the Kremlin's new plan. The questions of recognition of Communist East Germany sovereignty and writing of a German peace treaty, which Premier Khrushchev has long held to be more urgent, would follow on the agenda.

This reversal in procedure is in line with Western thought that the independence of West Berlin and Western rights there are of the most vital concern and that Khrushchev has been putting the cart before the horse.

Diplomatic informants considered the proffered switch a distinct and important change in the Soviet position.

But old snags remained evident. At no point did the Soviets indicate they had changed their basic demands to end the Allied occupation of West Berlin, which they have campaigned to convert into a permanent city.

March of Dimes Will Aid Patients

The January 1962 New March of Dimes will help finance an expanding patient aid program to provide skilled medical care at the community level for victims of crippling birth defects and arthritis. Mrs. Laura Impson, Hempstead county campaign director, said today.

She, along with Mrs. Steve Bader, Mother's March Chairman, and Mrs. Haskell Jones, a member of the Medical Advisory Committee, attended a one-day pre-campaign meeting of volunteer leaders of the state's National Foundation chapters held in Hot Springs Arkansas.

She said the volunteers reacted with real enthusiasm to plans for carrying out new patient aid program approach. This involves setting up Social Treatment Centers or Evaluation Clinics at community levels to treat birth defects and arthritis.

The centers are financed directly by individual National Foundation March of Dimes chapters or group of chapters. Initiated in 1960, the program was accelerated this year with a number of such centers established in many sections of the country, she explained.

"In each center or clinic we have a team of medical experts such as doctors, nurses, physical therapists, occupational therapists and medical social workers," she added.

"Like polio, birth defects and arthritis often cause crippling and other complex medical problems. They need a team approach for proper treatment. We are sure the public will respond to this program by giving us financial support during the January campaign."

More than one-hundred members of various state chapters attended the meeting, she said. Keynote speaker was Mr. Burr Gibson, Director of Fund Raising.

Volunteers at the meeting and staff members of the National Foundation's New York headquarters discussed ideas on recruitment and organization of the annual Mothers' March and other March of Dimes activities.

"Few of us realize how many Americans are affected by these diseases," she said. One out of every 16 babies is born each year in this country with a significant birth defect and at least 11,000,000 Americans have arthritis or rheumatic disease.

One of the main hopes for preventing this crippling lies in the early diagnosis and treatment. Another health scholarship program designed to train students in the health fields.

She said the slogan for the January campaign, reflecting the organization's success against polio, is "Youth Dimes Will Do It Again."

Enterprise Is to Be Commissioned

Sheriff at Denver Is Found Guilty

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP)—The highest-ranking officer linked to the Denver police burglary scandal, Sheriff Robert M. Roberts, was found guilty Thursday of burglary and conspiracy.

As the District Court jury acted, Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols urged a special grand jury to investigate the Denver Police Department.

Thirty-five Denver policemen, including five who testified at Roberts' trial, have been charged with burglary.

Roberts, an ex-FBI agent, accepted the verdict with detachment. His wife, Mickey, also displayed no emotion. They have seven children ranging from 11 years to 4 months in age.

The first-term Democratic sheriff was convicted on separate counts of burglary and conspiracy, each carrying a possible sentence of from one to 10 years in prison. Sentencing was delayed 30 days to allow his attorneys to move for a new trial. He remained free on $30,000 bond.

Prosecutors pictured Roberts, 40, as the suave ringleader of the Denver gang. Its burglaries came to light last June 29 when officers, tipped off by a sergeant on Roberts' staff, trapped three policemen in a supermarket.

Roberts' defense was that he cooperated with the burglars on several crimes in an undercover investigation to learn the identities of other policemen involved.

X-15 Flies 4,070 Mph for Record

By RALPH DIGHTON

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket ship, forerunner of the space ship that will take man to the moon in this decade, has achieved one of its twin goals—record speed. Now it will be aimed at record altitude.

Air Force Major Bob White opened it up all the way in level flight Thursday and set a new speed mark of 4,070 miles per hour — six times the speed of sound, twice as fast as a rifle bullet.

Next week another pilot, Joe Walker of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will point the X15 skyward and try for a new altitude record of 250,000 feet.

Four thousand miles an hour and 250,000 feet—this is what the stubby-winged black Sky Dart was designed to achieve.

It already has reached 217,000 feet, last October 11 with White in the cramped cockpit.

That day, as Thursday, swift temperature changes of more than 1,000 degrees in less than three minutes splintered the outer panel of his windshield.

"I expect the metal frame holding the windshield will be modified before the altitude attempt," White said after his flight.

The right side of his windshield was so badly cracked by the heat, that White could not see out of it.

"Good Lord," he breathed, "I hope this one holds."

Then he radioed to the chase pilot on his right side: "Stay right there, buddy."

The chase pilot, Air Force Major Walter Daniel, did exactly that, keeping his F104 just above the X15 and radioing instructions to White all the way down.

Mayor Does His Own Auto Repair

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Mayor Victor Schiro's chauffeur returned from a repair shop with an estimate of $22 for straightening a dented hubcap on the mayor's official car.

"No soap," said the mayor. He got a hammer and pounded out the dent himself.

Books Great Instrument of Education; Library Averages 7 Per Student

By MARY ANITA LASETER

We all know that books are a wonderful education in themselves provided the right ones are read and absorbed. It is even possible for a person to educate himself to a great extent with the proper books.

If that applies to self-education, though, it is often more important to have good books in a school library than any other place, for more students come in contact with books there than anywhere else. Many have a wide choice of books at home, others make use of the public library, but all have access to the school library.

Recognizing the importance of this source of books to education, the North-Central Assn., which sets the standards for secondary schools in Arkansas, now requires that there be seven books per student in school libraries.

Within three years Hope High must build up its library to this level or its rating will drop. The addition to the library thus far has been approximately 130 new books. These include all types and kinds from light fiction to biography. Some of these with titles are: "Spurs for Suzanna," Joyce Kilmer, "Boys' Book of Science and Construction," "On the Beach," and "America Is My Country."

According to Miss Mary Lou Roper, librarian, more books are sorely needed. Many times people have duplications of books in their homes, or perhaps other books they would like to donate to the school. Look around your house to see if you have a book or several that could be a suitable addition to the library at Hope High.

Members of the local Key Club have volunteered to pick up any such books for the library next Saturday, Nov. 18. Key Club boys will be at the Youth Center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on that day to receive calls from anyone wishing to donate books.

Members of Book-of-the-Month Club usually have a great many books they don't keep when they finish reading them. If any are surplus material in your library and are good, modern fiction, non-fiction, poetry, biography or, of course, the classics, why not help with this project of the Key Club?

We don't want to lose our North-Central rating at HHS, and we do want to build up its library. If you can contribute any suitable books, call a Key Clubber next Saturday, Nov. 18 from 8 to 5 at PR 7-5511.

Rehabilitate 17 in County for Jobs

A total of 17 handicapped Hempstead county residents were rehabilitated — prepared for employment and placed in jobs — during the 1961 fiscal year, according to H. E. Tye, Arkansas Rehabilitation Service field counselor in the Texarkana office.

Tye pointed out that since completion of their rehabilitation programs the total monthly income of this group has increased from $296 to $2,708. Services extended these individuals included such provisions as physical restoration, prosthetic appliances, counseling, vocational evaluation and vocational training.

The average cost for rehabilitation of each person was $321.34, he said. Tye is also responsible for providing rehabilitation services in Howard, Little River, Pike and Sevier counties.

At present, Tye is providing services to 31 handicapped Hempstead county residents on an active basis and has an additional 23 on referral. Referral status designates those persons who have not completed the process for determining whether they can return to employment through rehabilitation.

Any person, over 16 years old, with a handicap resulting from accident, illness, disease or congenital condition which prevents employment or materially impairs ability is eligible for these services, according to Tye.

In explaining the total state rehabilitation program and its facilities, Tye pointed out that he has enrolled one person from this county in the Hot Springs Rehabilitation Center since that facility opened last January. Several others are scheduled for admission soon, he said.

Hot Springs Center was formerly the Army-Navy hospital. Title to the property and all buildings was transferred to state ownership by the Federal government in April 1960 and the facilities were converted to comprehensive rehabilitation center.

Throughout the entire state 2,459 persons were rehabilitated in fiscal 1961, Tye explained. It is anticipated that more than 2,800 will receive services during the current year, he said.

Arkansas has been a leader in the national rehabilitation program for several years, presently ranking third. During the past fiscal year the agency rehabilitated 138 persons per 100,000 population as opposed to the national average of 51 per 100,000.

Kennedy Will Hold Veterans Day Service

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy goes to Arlington National Cemetery on this Veterans Day to honor the dead there and the millions who served and still live.

The program at the Tomb of the Unknowns, where the President was to speak briefly after laying the hour for this Arlington ceremonies across the country.

The occasion was solemn and the background of events grim. The nation was mobilizing to defend itself against a possible war.

The hour for the Arlington ceremony was 11 a.m.—the time of day when the Armistice ended World War I, fought, it was said, to end all wars. There have been two major conflicts since—World War II and the Korean War.

The schedule for the ceremony was brief—a matter of a few minutes including the time for the President's remarks.

Kennedy came to make his speech both as a President and as a veteran. In World War II he was a PT boat captain, fighting against big ships with little craft in the far corners of the Pacific.

There are about 22-million veterans who served in the U.S. armed forces. About 15 million served in World War II and about 600,000 of these were still in service or came back to serve in the Korean War. The remainder of the veterans served in World War I, the Spanish-American War, and in other, smaller conflicts, or were in the armed forces in peacetime.

No Score in Prescott and DeQueen Tie

PRESCOTT — DeQueen and the local Curley Wolves started Friday night's football game here in a tie for second place in District 7-A competition.

And when the game ended they were tied on the football field as well as the league standing. For the contest, fought in a light rain, moved back and forth between the 20-yard markers and ended zero to zero.

Both teams had lost but one game — to Nashville, the district champion.

Marilyn White was crowned homecoming queen.

Gen. Walker to Speak Over U.S.

DALLAS (AP)—Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, 52, who resigned from the Army after a dispute about the type of anti-communist training he gave his troops, plans a nationwide speaking tour.

He said his first public speech since he quit the military will be in two or three weeks. He said the tour will be from Florida to California.

Walker declined to say where he would start his tour.

The former commander of the 24th Infantry Division in West Germany said a trip to Dallas to make formative plans for his speaking engagements and to visit friends.

shared, some of the time if not always, by others among the so-called neutralists.

He made this point himself Thursday at the National Press Club when, asked whether he thinks the "neutrals have been fair to the United States," he said:

"The problem is difficult to answer on behalf of other countries. But please remember that all these countries are full of their own problems. Questions like this and such questions as Berlin and Germany are at the fringes of their minds."

Still, while he has fairly ready answers for others' problems, he has some of his own still unresolved. For instance, his dispute with the government of Pakistan over the state of Kashmir or with the Red Chinese over their invasion of India.

He still hasn't been able to cope with one of his most tormenting internal problems: the increase of 10 million people a year in India's population.

And even his economic progress, despite outside help, has been fairly slow. Last summer a U.N. survey showed that out of 22 developing countries India is almost slowest in progress.

Last September he visited Moscow and talked with Premier Khrushchev. And, just as in his meeting with Kennedy this week, he and the Russians agreed on some issues, disagreed on others. He now denounces, although he didn't say in the statement he and Khrushchev put out, Russia's resumption of nuclear testing. He doesn't agree with Kennedy on self-determination for Communist East Germany.

But Nehru's visit points up, as well as anything some of the problems Kennedy has, too. This country is friendly, and wants to remain that way, with both India and Pakistan which are not friendly at all.

Last July Kennedy entertained Pakistan's President Ayub Khan and they, too, issued a statement on their talks. The best Kennedy seemed able to do, without offending either side, was to say he hoped India and Pakistan would settle their Kashmir trouble.

a "demilitarized free city."

Nor did they give ground on their demands for Western recognition of the Communist East German regime as a sovereign government and for a German peace treaty.

The Soviet proposals apparently were presented informally but definitely this week to the United States, Britain, France and West Germany through their ambassadors in Moscow. The aim was clearly to permit negotiations to begin.

Authoritative circles said the Soviet proposals would set up this schedule:

1. The Big Four occupying powers should reach an agreement on a new status for West Berlin that guarantees the freedom of its people and freedom of communication between the city and the West.

2. A separate agreement should be reached between Communist East Germany and the Soviet Union by which East Germany would undertake to respect the new status of West Berlin and accept the guarantees of freedom for its people and communication.

3. The Western powers should agree to respect the sovereignty of East Germany, and West Germany should specifically accept this agreement. The measure of recognition of East German sovereignty was not defined, but the West Germans government is not likely to agree to anything approaching formal recognition of the division of Germany.

4. Finally a peace treaty would be worked out with Germany. This presumably refers to an all-German treaty. Khrushchev has said repeatedly he would sign a peace treaty with East Germany if the all-Germany was not concluded, although he has lifted his threat to do it by Dec. 31.

Fla., were the only survivors. After the two got out of the flaming crash "all we could do was stand there and watch it burn," Conway told newsmen in his first public statement since the tragedy.

At his side was his brunette wife, Beverly. Conway, with a blackened left eye, held his wife's hand as he related the flight from Baltimore's Friendship Airport until it plunged to earth. He sat dressed in blue-striped pajamas in a wheelchair.

As Conway was telling newsmen for the first time of the final moments of the fatal flight, federal aviation officials were sifting through the blackened ruins of the airliner to try to pinpoint cause of the power failure.

Evidence at the trial was that the Poles had surprised him in bed with Ursula Discher, a 23-year-old Polish girl, and blacked him into giving them information from the embassy.

An hour-long appeal for mercy failed to deter Walsh from meting out the maximum jail sentence. The judge did not impose a fine after Seaback's lawyer, Samuel G. Klein, said Seaback was penniless. He could have been fined $30,000.

Congo Seeks to Put Down Panic

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula, Gen. Joseph Mobutu and U.N. Gen. Sean McKeown flew to Lubumbashi with their top aides today to investigate the calm a week-long panic among Europeans in the Kasai Province capital.

In the first official report of last week's antiwhite riots, U.N. command confirmed that Congolese soldiers had turned on the area's European population and raped at least eight white women in a night-long rampage.

The rioting Nov. 1-2 grew out of nervousness in the face of air attacks on nearby villages by the Katanga air force and the soldiers' frustration and anger at the defeat of Mobutu's invasion force by the Katanga army.

Costume jewelry takes on a precious, real look this fall. It also has a light, soft look. Pearls are newest (left) when they are tiny and twisted into multiple strands. They are shown here in 22-inch length. Elegant gold fringe collar (center) is worn with soft, flexible mesh bracelets and gold tassel drop earrings. Pendant drop necklace with new fringe tassel (right) has tiny pastel beads mixed with fine chains of gold for airy appearance.

Hamilton in Comeback at Age of 62

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The face would be familiar to every film fan over 35.

Neil Hamilton, still as slimly handsome, still with the same hairline as when he acted the suave leading man in silent films and talkies was playing a minor role in a TV show, "Follow the Sun." He also had a story.

"I've written my tale of ragged riches and back to rags and some day I may get it published. It's quite a story."

"I had it very good in this town. Actually I started in 1918, at Fort Lee, N. J., when it was the center of the film industry. I worked extra four years until D. W. Griffith, God rest his soul, gave me a break."

There followed 15 years of top success. Hamilton made 72 pictures in six years and his films included "Beau Geste," "One Sunday Afternoon," "When Strangers May Kiss" (opposite Norma Shearer), "What Price Hollywood?" (opposite Constance Bennett) and the first two big Tarzan films.

But in the mid-30s his career started to slide. He had lost a bundle in the stock market and had investments in the New York World Fair.

In 1941 he found no jobs as an actor so he became an agent's assistant at $50 a week.

"I had made a million in the film business," he recalled. "We had owned a house in Brentwood with five servants and now we were living in a $60-a-month apartment."

"I was drinking and I was at my lowest ebb. One night I was driving toward the hills and I was determined to kill myself. I knew a place where I wouldn't be found for years and the insurance would help my wife and daughter."

But he next found himself on the steps of the club for Catholic students at UCLA. Hamilton recited his woes to an old friend, a priest, who urged him to try the power of prayer.

The actor agreed to try. Within nine days he had an offer for four weeks of film work at $625 a week. The director loaned him $500 to buy a new wardrobe.

Since that time he has worked fairly steadily in stage plays and live TV, and lately has played most of the filmed TV shows; he has been on Perry Mason five times.

At 62, he has no illusions, no regrets. He makes a comfortable living, doing two or three TV series a month. He has had the same wife for 39 years.

"But most of all, I have my faith," he remarked. "That's all a man needs."

Eisenhower Will Help State GOP

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will play an active but not dominant role in Pennsylvania's 1962 gubernatorial and senatorial campaigns, says Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom.

The GOP leader said Eisenhower assured him at a meeting in Gettysburg Wednesday that he will not attempt to dictate the choice of the party's candidates.

Identifying Air Victims Is Started

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Army assembled teams of experts today to begin the grim and difficult task of identifying the bodies of the 74 victims of the flaming crash of an airliner carrying recruits to camp for training.

The bodies of the 74 recruits and 3 of the plane's crew are being moved today from a temporary morgue here to the field house at Ft. Lee. There men of the Army's recovery and disposition units will seek to make identifications.

The Army said all available resources will be used in an effort to speed the process. Families of the victims will be notified officially as the work progresses.

The Army said Thursday that no positive identification had been made yet. But a spokesman said there were clues such as personal effects and teeth.

The Civil Aeronautics Board has flown personnel to Richmond to investigate the circumstances of the crash of the Imperial Airlines Constellation near here on Wednesday night.

The four-engine craft crashed into a wooded swamp near Richmond's Byrd Airport a few hours after the 74 new soldiers parted from their families for training at Ft. Jackson, S.C. only two crew members escaped from the twisted, burning wreckage.

The pilot, with one engine of his plane dead, was making a desperate attempt to land at the airport when he radioed: "I can't get my (landing) gear down and I'm losing another engine."

Seconds later, the ship skimmed over the runways, tried to gain altitude, then sank out of sight behind the trees. Its broad wings cut a path through the marshy woods near the airport, and the ship burst into flames. All but two aboard were entombed.

The ship, a nonscheduled airliner, had picked up its passengers in Newark, N.J.; Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Baltimore.

The two survivors, pilot Ronald Conway, 29, of West Hollywood, Fla., and the flight engineer, William Poythress, 31, of Miami, managed to escape the burning plane with only minor injuries.

Would Fly Xmas Gifts to Moscow

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Businessman Robert I. Horne says he has asked the State Department for clearance to fly to Moscow with 5,000 pounds of goodies to play Santa Claus to some Soviet children. He said he merely wants to show how American children celebrate Christmas.

DOROTHY DIX

Where Has She Failed?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I've failed somewhere along the line as a wife. Tell me where.

My husband and I married six years and have three children. Ours was a forced marriage, although I thought then I loved him and still do. He's a hard worker and fond of the children but, as for me—I'm a chattel doing time at slave labor.

If supper isn't on the table steaming hot the moment he sits down, he rants and raves. The night I have everything ready on the dot, he strolls in half an hour late then kicks if the food is dried out.

He says he helps around the house. Help, my eye! He'll put a simple little washer on a faucet, strut his chest in self-praise, then strut off, leaving me to clean up the mess.

I helped him paint the kitchen doors and cabinets. When I handed him the best brush—it cost 89 cents, he demanded to know who's money paid for it. When I told him my money, he wouldn't believe me.

I'm a business school graduate and if I hadn't married, would be making good money as a secretary. But being wife, mother and all-around slavey, I can't go out to work, so take what I can get to do at home, which is ironing. Being a perfectionist, I do a good job and have all the work I can get at $1.50 an hour.

My husband comes and goes as he wishes, but let me ask him to baby sit while I browse through the stores, and he'll lecture the rest of the evening on home being the place for a wife and mother. We haven't been out together in the car for three weeks, except to Sunday school with the kids—a five-minute drive. When I ask him if he loves me he grunts "I guess so." Never once, has he ever said "I love you." Maybe it's my fault. Where have I failed? —Puzzled.

Dear Puzzled: You got off to a wrong start by letting your husband think he had to marry you. In these enlightened days, the decision is up to the girl as much as the boy. Subconsciously, your husband may still think in terms of the "Scarlet Letter" and see you as a Hester Pryn, wearing a red A for adultery.

Give him to understand that you married because you wanted to, not had to, and loved him enough to bear two more children. As their mother and his wife you rate respect. Hold your head high and speak with conviction. You'll be a chattel as long as you act like one.

Dear Helen: Why do so few women marry men younger than themselves? Those who do seem ashamed of the fact. I'm in love with a boy younger than myself. He is understanding, considerate and companionable. We share the same hopes, dreams and plans for the future. We enjoy each other's company. Yet, there is this difference in our ages. Will it eventually be a barrier? —Mixed Up Kid, Union City, Ind.

Dear Mixed Up: Most women are still back in the Victorian era, as far as age is concerned. They erroneously believe that age is physiological, not psychological. Therefore fear the calendar years. Such a woman, would feel at a disadvantage with a young husband. Judging from the writing and context of your letter you are still in your teens. If you and the boy care for one another, don't worry about the difference in years. Follow your heart.

Memo to K.M., Prove, Utah: The cure for shyness lies in forgetting self. Be interested in others and they will be interested in you.

Wheel Sticks, But Plane Lands O. K.

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of Bethlehem Steel Corp., his wife and a crew of three spent an anxious three hours in the air Thursday before a company plane landed safely at Idlewild Airport.

The craft, a twin-engine Convair 440, took off from Allentown, Pa., airport. The pilot then discovered an apparent malfunction of the nosewheel. He circled Allentown airport for a couple of hours before being ordered to Idlewild for an emergency landing.

Aboard were Arthur B. Homer, 65, his wife, and Capt. R. B. Beckner, the pilot, of Barto, Pa., and two co-pilots, R. F. White and S. P. Kuschak of Bethlehem, Pa.

As crash equipment stood by, Beckner circled Idlewild for a half hour before setting down safely. The nosewheel held.

What had been a scheduled trip from Allentown to Newark, N.J., normally a 20-minute run—took three hours.

President Will Address Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said today President Kennedy has accepted an invitation to address the labor organization's convention in Miami Beach, Fla. in December.

Meany, talking with newsmen after a White House visit, said the date of the speech is still to be set.

The convention opens Dec. 7 and continues through Dec. 14.

More Money for Farms Than Schools

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — "If this country would apply the same brainpower and money to the problems of education as it does to agriculture, there would be a bumper crop of national benefits."

So says Dean Lindley J. Stiles of the University of Wisconsin, who believes the real frontiers of education have not yet even been approached.

Stiles told the Council of Chief State School Officers Wednesday that properly supported, education can become the same kind of scientific process that farming is today.

The federal government now spends $160 million dollars a year on agricultural research, but only about $5 million on research in education, Stiles said.

He urged the state superintendents and commissioners of education, holding their annual three-day meeting here, to support a proposal that the federal government appropriate $75-million to $100-million dollars a year for educational research.

Stiles said later, in an interview, "Farmers used to farm according to the almanac, folklore, and trial and error. That is the way too many of our schools are educating youngsters today. It is high time we consider the cultivation of the mind just as important as the cultivation of the soil."

Memphis to Expand Its Area Plans

MEMPHIS (AP) — Commissioners of Shelby County have urged that the Memphis-West Memphis, Ark., Area Development Committee be expanded to include De Soto County, Miss.

De Soto county adjoins Shelby County on the south, at the Mississippi-Tennessee state line. David Harsh chairman of the Shelby County Commission, said Wednesday the proposal was taken under advisement by Memphis officials.

The Memphis - West Memphis committee was proposed last month at a joint meeting of public officials from the two areas. They agreed to set up a 10-man agency to plan a joint port authority and a joint planning group.

West Memphis has named its five members. The Memphis committee have not yet been selected. Adding De Soto County would boost the membership to 15.

"Information would be exchanged and coordinated and reports made to the governing bodies of the three counties and municipalities," Harsh said.

When Princeton and Rutgers played the first American football game in 1869, some Princetonians roared out a lusty "Siss, boom, ah." The shout derived from the rocket yell of the Seventh Regiment of New York which had passed through the Princeton, N. J., campus during the Civil War.

Undeclared Missing in Basketball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They've only played 16 games in the fledgling American Basketball League, but there isn't an undefeated team left among the eight apparently well-balanced members.

The Pittsburgh Rens and Hawaii Chiefs were the last to fall, both beaten Thursday night in a doubleheader at Washington. The host Tapers edged the Chiefs 92-91 and the Chicago Majors whipped the Rens 109-97.

In the only other game, the Cleveland Pipers nipped the San Francisco Sants 103-100.

The Tapers defeated the Chiefs when Warren Spaggins sank a field goal with 15 seconds left. Chicago brought its record to 2-3 when Ron Zager broke an 88-88 tie with a field goal and a free throw that shot the Majors into a lead they never lost.

The Pipers won it despite six three-point field goals by the Saints as Cleveland's John Barnhill took high points honors with 28 and teammate Ben Wazley contributed 25.

Shumaker Is Open to Deer Hunters

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—The vast woodlands of the Shumaker Naval Ordnance Depot, closed to hunting for 17 years, will be opened for a controlled deer hunt next Monday through Friday.

Each day, 500 hunters will be permitted to patrol the 50-square-mile reservation to harvest either sex of deer.

If more than 500 show up to hunt on any day, a drawing will be held to determine the lucky ones. The first drawing will be Sunday at 3 p.m. at the old Post Office building in Camden. This is for Monday's hunt. Other drawings will be at 5:30 a.m. on the day of the hunt.

The government recently sold the Shumaker property and new owners set up the controlled hunt in cooperation with the state Game and Fish Commission.

Fishing Around Arkansas Lakes

Baylor Only Bar to Texas Bowl Dream

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas goes after its eighth straight victory and a step closer to the Cotton Bowl Saturday in a clash with dangerous Baylor.

It's the top game of the week in a Southwest Conference football race now moving down the stretch.

Texas, 4-0 in the conference campaign, will be meeting the last of the so-called big four. Before the season started Texas, Rice, Arkansas and Baylor were rated the teams to fight it out for the championship. Texas already has manhandled Rice and Arkansas.

The week's work starts Friday night when Texas Christian, hoping to pull even for the season, plays UCLA in Los Angeles. The Horned Frogs, who tied Ohio State—a team that beat UCLA 13-3 find themselves underdogs nevertheless. The UCLAs are picked by nine points.

Rice and Arkansas get together at Houston Saturday to decide the last team able to contend with Texas for the championship. The loser of this game will fade from title consideration. The winner might win the title or share it if Texas should falter.

Rice is a five-point favorite but is mindful of the fact that Frank Broyles, the Arkansas coach, is noted for victories in November.

Down at College Station, Texas A&M plays Southern Methodist in a game meaning nothing in the conference race since both teams have been eliminated.

The Aggies, who are having a disappointing season, are favored by a couple of touchdowns.

Texas Tech plays an intercollegiate game, hosting Boston College. Neither team has much of a record, Boston College showing 3-3 and Tech 2-5, but a wide-open offensive struggle is in the making. The game is considered a tossup.

Just can't make it unanimous—getting three out of four last week. Here's how they look this time.

Texas-Baylor — Texas is top talented and too wary of upsets at this stage of the race; Texas

Rice-Arkansas — Rice in a squeaker.

Texas A&M-Southern Methodist — The Aggies will win but it won't be easy.

Texas Christian — UCLA — We'll take the Frogs to knock over the UCLAs on Sonny Gibbs' passing.

Texas Tech-Boston College — Texas Tech is a close choice.

Chapter XXXVI

"I understand now. Everything," Don Julio glanced down at his watch. "But how much time can I allow for this experiment?"

"What does the police manual say? How much leeway is allowed for a strike at freedom?"

"None at all, I'm afraid. The plane from Madrid will be here shortly. The officials from Iberia and the Inspectors of the Guardia Civil will get the truth from her. And there is the end of it. Her chance will be gone."

"The legal side of it isn't important."

Don Julio smiled. "Lawyers would be discouraged by your attitude."

"I'm thinking of the kind of freedom you can enjoy in a jail."

"Yes, of course. But we can't give that to her. She must earn it." Don Julio got to his feet and joined Beecher at the window.

"Sure, Beecher said. 'But not quite as you mean. I've learned to live in the present. But I know now we're responsible for that present.'"

"And she is part of your present?"

"That's it."

Don Julio sighed. "It seems a rather clinical approach to matters of the heart. You're too old for dreams."

Beecher smiled and patted his shoulder. "No, I'm too young for them."

"Why don't you stay on in Spain?"

"You mean, after the interrogations and the statements and the trial?"

"Yes. I'll miss you if you go back to America."

Beecher would miss Don Julio in turn, and he would miss Spain. But he felt pleased and excited at the prospect of going home.

"I've got to get back to work," he said.

Beecher suddenly pulled Don Julio closer to the window. Someone was coming up the street that twisted up to the village from the sea. Through the darkness Beecher saw a small, slight figure, the flash of a white raincoat.

He let out his breath slowly. "Can I go down to meet her?"

"Yes. I would like to hear her story alone, however. Will you stand by?"

"I'll be here when you need me."

Beecher opened the door and walked down the steps of Don Julio's office.

She was walking slowly up the

Tony Lema Is Leader at Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., with a 4-under-par 66 in the first round, has taken over the favorite's role in the Mexican National Open Golf Tournament after the surprising withdrawal of Sam Snead and defending champion Howie Johnson.

Snead, in Miami, Fla., contacted tournament officials after first round play had begun and said he would not compete. Johnson, of Cog Hill, Ill., also withdrew.

Lema, with his 66, shared the first round lead with amateur Roberto Halpern of Mexico City.

Two strokes back were Angel Miguel of Spain and Sam Reynolds of Springfield, Mo., with 70s.

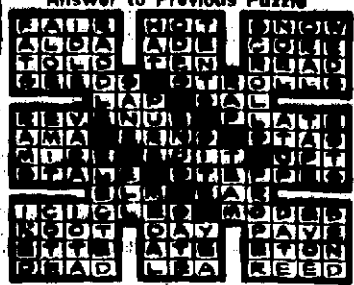

The 40 coaches on the rating board gave Pittsburgh 18 first-place votes and the Kansas wound up with 308 points. Baldwin Wallace had 266 and Southeastern Louisiana 245. The others are far back.

Central Oklahoma State moved up a notch of fourth, displacing Northern Michigan. Northern Michigan was penalized this week by the NAIA for inadvertently playing an ineligible man.

Worship God In His Holy Sanctuary

"Oh, Come Let Us Sing Unto The Lord," For
There Is No Variableness
In God's Cause, Nor In His Justice, Then,
Come Let Us Go To Church

Change Works Its Corrosion Upon Us As We Approach Our
Rendezvous With Death
But, We Are Under
Sentence To Honor
God, To Ever
Support His Church

"This Way

... my boy," a proud father shouts. And a delighted lad takes his first steps to open arms of love and support.

How marvelous if this relationship can last through all the years. Why not? They are and they will remain father and son. And a good father, like God, never fails his children even when he cannot understand them.

These two make a team and likely will need each other for a long time. Then, frame the picture and give it a prominent place so each could think,

"That's the way we began together."

Trust and confidence and church-going leadership mark the older man.

But eager effort and glad cooperation for the high and the good will glorify the son. Father and mother, when they start stepping, it is time for you to start helping.

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths.

Prov. 3-6.

You In The Church The Church In You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us
support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
